Examination Misconduct (Misconduct) is any practice that occurs before, during or after an LLQP exam (whether online or in-person) that may compromise the security or integrity of the exam or the exam results. This includes any violation of Examination Rules and all unethical behaviour. Misconduct will be categorized into low, medium or high-risk misconduct. The severity of the Misconduct will determine the consequences, with consequences increasing with each misconduct category, and the severity of Misconduct (and any consequences) is accumulative and accrues across examination modules and timeslots. Instances of exam misconduct may qualify as a breach of the Code of Conduct.

The proctor will report all cases of misconduct to the Insurance Council in order to render any decision necessary. Examples of misconduct include:

- Using notes, papers, or other aids not supplied by the Insurance Council.
- Impersonating an examinee or attempting to write the exam for someone else.

Low-Risk Misconduct

Low-risk misconduct is categorized as an unintentional violation of Examination Rules that does not carry a significant risk to the integrity or security of the exam. Low-risk misconduct may result in the following consequences:

- A written warning and a note on an Examinee's record with the Insurance Council, and/or;
- Requiring the examinee to re-write new forms of all exam modules in person, regardless of whether misconduct took place in other modules.
- Any other consequence the Insurance Council deems appropriate.

Multiple instances of low-risk Misconduct, either during the same module or across multiple modules, may result in a medium-risk Misconduct allegation with corresponding consequences.

See Appendix B of the LLQP Examination Rules, Misconduct and Investigation Policy for examples of low-risk misconduct.

Medium-Risk Misconduct

Medium-risk Misconduct is categorized as any intentional Examination Rule violation that is more serious in nature. Medium-risk misconduct may result in the following consequences:

- Terminating the exam;
- A zero on the related exam and a notation of an attempt logged on the Examinee's file;
- A note on an Examinee's record with the Insurance Council;

- Requiring the Examinee to re-write all modules of the exam in a new form, in- person and on a date and time specified by the Third-Party Exam Administrator or the Insurance Council;

- Any other consequence the Insurance Council deems appropriate.

Multiple instances of medium-risk Misconduct, either during the same exam or across multiple exams, may result in a high-risk Misconduct allegation with corresponding consequences.

See Appendix B of the LLQP Examination Rules, Misconduct and Investigation Policy for examples of medium-risk misconduct.

High-Risk Misconduct

High-risk Misconduct is categorized as any dishonest and/or premeditated Examination Rule violation that may seriously compromise the security and/or integrity of the exam. Single instances of high-risk Misconduct may result in the following consequences:

- Terminating the exam;
- A zero on the related exam and a notation of an attempt logged on the Examinee's file;
- Requiring the Examinee to re-write all registered modules of the exam in a new form, in-person and on a date and time specified by the Third-Party Exam Administrator or the Insurance Council;
- Requiring the Examinee to write all future exam modules at a location specified by the Third-Party Exam Administrator or by the Insurance Council;
- Suspension from the LLQP exam process for a period of two years from the date of the Misconduct; or
- Any other consequence the Insurance Council deems appropriate.

Examinees found to have committed multiple instances of high-risk Misconduct (across multiple modules or in the same module) may be suspended from the LLQP exam process for three years from the date of the Misconduct.

If the Insurance Council deems any instance(s) of high-risk Misconduct to have significantly compromised the security and/or integrity of the exam, the Examinee may be permanently removed from the LLQP.

See Appendix B of the LLQP Examination Rules, Misconduct and Investigation Policy for examples of high-risk misconduct.

For more information about the LLQP examination rules and corresponding sanctions for misconduct, see the LLQP Examination Rules, Misconduct and Investigation Policy.

5.3 CONFIDENTIALITY

You agree to maintain the confidentiality of the Insurance Council's Confidential Information at all times and understand that any failure to maintain the confidentiality of the Insurance Council's Confidential Information may result in disciplinary action against you by the Insurance Council or other adverse consequences, including, without limitation, cancellation of your exam, or refusal of a licence.

Specifically, you understand that you may not, for example, discuss, publish, or share any exam question(s), your answers or thoughts on any question(s), or the exam's format in person, or any forum or media (e.g., via email, Facebook, LinkedIn, Twitter, etc.).

6. AFTER THE EXAM

6.1 EXAM RESULTS

You may view your exam results on your portal account by navigating to the "View my exam results" tab in the main menu. The Insurance Council will not provide exam results over the phone.

Please note the following:

- A mark of 60% or higher is required to pass the LLQP exam;

- Exam results for LLQP exams written online after June 30, 2023, are not accepted; and
- If you are a BC resident and intend to write your licence examination in another jurisdiction, you must first contact the Insurance Council to ensure that the results will be valid in BC.

Exam Results Written Within Metro Vancouver (Vancouver and Surrey)

Exam results are released by 4:30 p.m. PT, five (5) business days after the date of the exam. You can view exam results in your Insurance Council online portal account by navigating to the “View my exam results” tab in the main menu.

Exam Results Written in Other BC Regions Outside of Metro Vancouver

6.2 RE-WRITING AN EXAM

If you are unsuccessful in passing an exam, you can attempt to re-write it; however, a waiting period will apply after a number of attempts.

Waiting Period - As of July 1, 2024

Unsuccessful Attempt	Waiting Period
After 1st attempt	N/A
After 2nd attempt	N/A
After 3 rd attempt	N/A
After 4 th attempt	1 year*

*Certification for LLQP prerequisite course completion is only valid for one year. Therefore, examinees who are required to wait a year before rewriting the exam will also need to re-take the prerequisite LLQP course. The initial exam attempt following the one-year waiting period will be counted as a first attempt.

Exam re-write waiting periods are strictly applied.

Waiting periods do not extend the validity date of the LLQP prerequisite course completion. Examinees cannot write any exam module once their course completion expires. Re-taking the prequalification course does not change the exam writing waiting periods.

Regardless of where the examinee has previously written the LLQP exam in Canada, if they are unsuccessful in any exam module and register to re-write it in BC, they will be subjected to the waiting period implemented in BC. Similarly, if the examinee is unsuccessful in an exam module in BC, the BC waiting period will still apply, even if they choose to re-write the exam in another jurisdiction. It is the examinee's responsibility to disclose any previous exam attempts in other jurisdictions when registering to write the LLQP exam with the Insurance Council, and vice versa.

7. EXAM APPEALS

Examinees who have written any LLQP examination module have the right to appeal a decision relating to their examination, including their examination results, to the Insurance Council. Examinees may appeal a decision regarding the LLQP examination (including results) on the following grounds:

1. Grading error
2. Misconduct decision
3. Administrative error
4. Exceptional circumstances
5. Other examination irregularities

Note:

- The Insurance Council does not review appeals regarding the content of the examination or possible responses to examination questions. The content of the examination is not subject to appeal.
- Due to the sensitive nature of the examination material, examinees are not permitted to review their examination documents.
- Course validity and wait periods (between exam attempts) are not grounds for appeal.
- Examinees must clearly outline their grounds for appeal and provide any relevant supporting documentation or evidence.
- The Insurance Council will review the appeal and may request additional information from the Examinee to assist with its review.

Examinees wishing to make an appeal must submit a LLQP Examination Appeals Request Form to the Insurance Council's Licensing Department via email at licensing@insurancecouncilofbc.com within 10 business days of receiving exam results (or within 30 calendar days of a decision regarding misconduct investigation appeals). The Insurance Council reserves the right not to accept appeals made outside of this time.

For more information about the appeals and related process, please see the LLQP Examination Appeals Policy.
